

Dear Ukrainian colleagues,

I hope you are doing well.

Once again this year, we would like to ask for your support in sharing our call for the most innovative water technology companies, which we will be awarding together with you as part of the European Water Awards 2025.

This year marks the 10th anniversary of our forum, bringing significant changes to our operations. From now on, BWF will begin offering technological solutions to developing and underdeveloped countries globally. Over the past decade, we have accumulated numerous technologies that can solve critical challenges, improve people's quality of life, and contribute to economic growth. BWF is thus evolving into a center for technological solutions.

For the first time, we have introduced a small application fee of €150, ensuring that only serious companies apply.

We kindly ask you to share this call for applications through your channels in your country.
